NO DIETARY LIQUOR

The Ambassador's visit was believed to relate particularly to the French liner, France, in New York harbor but the last hope of relieving the plight of the crew of that ship vanished when the United States Public Health Service with the French liner under consideration, laid down the rule that "dietary" liquors including crew rations could not be considered medicinal. This decision means that foreign ships will not be permitted to serve wine to the crews as required by the laws of three foreign powers.

The decision was made by Dr. M. J. White, acting surgeon-general of the Public Health Service.

The State Department was informed today of the release by the American consulate at Shanghal. It was indicated, however, that the questions of indemnity and of marantees against repetition of such outrages would be taken up by the diplomats in Peking at the inst opportune moment.

So far as is known here, the Peking Diplomatic Corps has not sayet worked out any definite propopals as to future guarantees to be required of the Peking government.

MAKE ALLOWANCES
In dealing with the Peking government the Diplomatic Corps at the Chinese capital always has recognized the sharp contrast between western civilization and that of the Chinese. It also must be considered, it is said, in working out a solution for the bandit outrages against foreigners, which have become more frequent in China within recent months.

There is no doubt in the opinion of informed officials here that specific guarantees will be required of the Peking authorities.

By what means either the present Peking ministry, or whatever faction or group in China may succeed it, will be able to enforce its will on the provincial and lesser officials throughout the bandit-infested region does not now appear, since the Peking government was able to obtain the release of the capitives by the bandits only when Roy Anderson, an American long recident in China, gave his paisonal guarantee that the Peking government would carry out its promises.

It is noteworthy in the view of observers here that throughout the exchanges between the Peking diplomatic body and the Chinese government no demand that the bandit leaders responsible for the outrage be seized and punished was made in behalf of the powers whose nationals were victims.

The entire trend of the negotiations made it clear that the Peking diplomats recognized the weak hold of any Chinese central government upor such a situation, and that it was probable that only by buying the bandits off, as was done, could the lives of the captive foreigners be protected. The same situation undoubtedly will have a bearing upon the negotiations for permanent grarantees now fore-

HALF-MILLION CHECKS SENT TO PENSIONERS

GOVERNMENT ORDERS IS ARDUOUS TASK

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Filling out and signing 549,066 checks is the record made by the pension office of the Department of the In-office of the Department of the Interior last month, representing the payment of $20.660.018.97 as pensions to old soldiers and their widows, as well as retired employees of the Federal government.

This, it is asserted, exceeds the number of individual checks sent out by any bureau of the government monthly, and one of the remarkable features is that they are mailed and dispatched so that every one of them reaches the pensioners by the fourth day of the following month.

The signing of the checks is another task that is accomplished regularly without a hitch, and the prompt mailing of the letters containing the pensions has been effected through an arrangement with the postoffice of separating the letters and sorting them into sacks covering each State and territory.

The checks are printed in sheets sacks covering each State and territory.

The checks are printed in sheets of five with attached stubs, the latter being kept in books of 1000 for convenience. After the checks are reviewed to ascertain the correctness of names, certificate numbers, dates and amounts, they are sent to clerks designated to sign them and whose signatures already are on file with the Treasurer of the United States, upon whom all checks are drawn.

These check signers, in order to sign promptly such a volume of them within the brief time albotted for that work, use the ten-pen signagraph, which enables each to affix a signature to ten checks at a signed the sheets of checks are cut signed the cheets of checks are cut signed the cheets of checks are cut by an electric cutting machine and the cheets of checks are cut by an electric cutting machine and

Volador of Mexico City May Be Abolished

Reputation is Not Liked by Better Class

Place Great Attraction for Many Tourists

BY JACK STARR-HUNT MEXICO CITY, June 13.—An campaign has been instiactive campaign has been insti-tuted by the newspapers and in certain classes of society in this city for the abolition of what is known as the Thieves' Market or Volador. The market is one of oldest and most picturesque in Mexico and is a favorite visiting place of tourists.

The merchants established in the The merchants established in the Volador strongly resent the market still being termed an unloading place for thieves, contending they buy their merchandise from legal sources and are doing business in a legitimate way. It is possible that a number of the merchants do not do business with stolen articles, but the majority undoubtedly purchase articles very cheap with little scruple as to how they were obtained by the seller.

BAD NEIGHBORHOOD

BAD NEIGHBORHOOD BAD NEIGHBORHOOD
The Thieves' Market is altuated in a bad neighborhood, a shorn distance from the main plaza of the city. It covers an area of probably a square block and is divided into a number of narrow and complicated passages, which constitute a veritable labyrinth, lined on both sides by booths containing every article imaginable.
The greater part of the merchandise offered for sale is used and the market is, as a rule, patronized only by people of the lower class.

class.

One of the principal reasons set for the abolition of the market is that it offers a simple way to dispose of stolen goods and thus is an encouragement to thieves. It is pointed out that other large foreign cities have done their most effective work in lessening the number of robberies by making it increasingly difficult for the thief to dispose of his booty.

DEFEND BUSINESS

In spite of its character the merchants of the Volador do not offer as great bargains as is generally thought. The larger part of the people who patronize the market are under the impression market are under the impression that stolen articles will naturally be disposed of far below cost, and the crafty merchants work upon this belief to dispose of cheap articles at a higher figure than they would bring at any of the more respectable stores or markets of the city. But the principal objection is that it serves to stimulate crime and the campaign instituted against it, coupled with the fact that the city is beginning to abolish many of the old unsanitary markets, is expected to lead to the disappearance of the Thievas Market.

EAN FRANCISCO, June 12.— Two new ferry boats of the Key Route Company—the Hayward and the San Leandro—which were built in Los Angeles at a cost of $500,-000 each, were not constructed in Oakland because the bids of ship-building companies here were $60,000 higher for each boat than that of the Los Angeles company. The announcement was made by Herbert Bell, electrical engineer Herbert Bell, electrical engineer for the Key Route Company, before members of the Electric Club at Hotel Oakland. The announcement was made in response to a query put to him by one of the members of the club during the course of a talk in which the electrical ecuipment of the boat was being explained.

M. Ryan, marine propulsion specialist of the General Electric Company, was explaining the electrical mechanism of the Key Route system's new beats when he was asked regarding the awarding of the $1,000,000 contract. Mr. Bell responded:

Northern Champions Refuse to Meet Venice, as They Offer More Alibi

[BT A P. NIGHT WIRE.]
VENICE, June 12.—Coach
Wiseman of Venice High School's swimming team announced today that the Stockton team, champions that the Stockton team, champions of Northern California, had definitely refused to meet Venice, the Southern California champions, this year under any conditions. The refusal came in a telegram which arrived this morning. Coach Lenz recently wired Venice that it would be impossible to hold the meet last Saturday, the date scheduled, because his team could not get berths. In an interview with the Associated Press, he then declared that the meet had been canceled because Venice refused to meet State rules.

The telegram received in Venice this morning save objection by the faculty as the reason for the canceling of the meet.

Barnes also had treuble with his putting and it was mainly chips on the green which caused him to take eighty for the second round as well as the first His shots were fine through the green, particularly the way in which he drove the ball against the wind. Diegel started badly with six and seven being bunkered and also missing a short putt at the latter hole. Then however, he settled down, but told me he found the cross-wind going out very puzzling.

Farreil also played well under trying conditions. He, too, took seven at the second, was out in forty and home in thirty-seven. After my round of eighty-two in the previous day I knew I should have no margin to spare. BERMUDA RACERS GET GOOD START TODAY

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW LONDON (Ct.) June 12.— The yachts in the New London Bermuda race got away about 10 o'clock today. The breeze was light and conditions seaward were foggy.

The Jawl Chaos of Newport, R. I. was barred from the race, but Capt. Ball decided to make the Tun.

The distance is 662 miles.

The big black New Bedford schooner Black Hawk, designed, owned and sailed by William H. Hand, Jr., led the fleet over the line and set the pace on the four-mile run to Race Rock.

his two-round rumpus with Jack Dempsey, has had an interesting career.

He worked in the coal mines near Seattle before taking up boxing. Stramaglia was badly wounded in the war, a fragment of shrapnel striking lum in the head, and another carrying away one of his fingers. Prior to this, however, he had established himself as the light heavyweight champion of the Italian armies. He has that stamina characteristic of so many Italians, particularly those from the peasant class. On all other portions of his anatomy he is as tough as a rubber ball, but a clip to the chin generally ends his career for that particular night.

Which makes the accounts of his showing against Dempsey all the more pazzling. According to these, Jack socked him flush on the chin with everything except the water bucket, yet Rocco kept rambling. This would indicate one of two things—that Dempsey has lost some of his punch, or that there is a very able fictionist in the Shelby training quarters.

However, Fred Winsor, who formerly managed Dempsey.

SPORT

However, Fred Winsor, who formerly managed Dempsey, says that despite the long list of kayoes in Jack's record, his punch in one respect has been greatly overrated.

"Dempsey is not a knockout fighter in the sense that he stops a man with one punch," said Winsor. "Rather, his blows are peculiarly punishing, and few men can stand up before them for many rounds. Winsor also says that contrary to general belief, Dempsey always has had a good left. The popular impression is that Jack had largely a uscless southpaw at the start, and Kearns forced him to develop it by strapping his right hand behind him in training.

"There are a lot of stories floating around how Dempsey learned this and that from sonand-so," confinued Winsor, "but what he knows today he either learned from Andy Mailoy or picked up himself. Malloy was of the old school. He fought Jim Flynn, Jack Twin Sallivan and others of that era. He also fought Dempsey, and later they barlesqued around Colorado. Malloy knew a lot of boxing, and Dempsey acquired many of his tricks in their burlesque bouts.

"I baought Dempsey to California in 1917. He boxed Al Norton a four-round draw in Oakland on Mây 22 of that year. This was his first fight in this State. One of the best boxing critics in San Francisco commented in his column the following day on Dempsey's great left." So that's that.

sey's great left." So that's that,

Winsor is a believer chiefly in two forms of exercise for a boxer in training—road work and actual boxing with sparring partners. He would climinate bag-punching and rope-skipping.

This strikes one as rather a sound view. People perfect themselves in any one thing by application to it. Plano players do not train on a basedrum, and billiardists do not get into a condition by pitching quoits.

get into a condition by pitching quoits.

One doesn't look for great baseball players on the polo field and tennis courts. In short, baseball players who are great become so by playing baseball. And the same undoubtedly holds true of boxers to a considerable extent. Of course, there should be occasional variations to lessen the drah of a long and intensive training period.

Dempsey engages in a lot of boxing, and this probably is a trait acquired when under the Winsor system. It may explain the imposing array of sparring partners which Jack maintains at his training camp boarding house. These, perhaps, are not as much sparring boarding house. These, perhaps, are not as much sparring partners as shock absorbers. The champ may be finding it a bit difficult after two, years of idleness to regain his best form, particularly in power and accuracy of hitting, and this probabyl makes him rather a bearish playmate. "Dempsey's battle against Carpentier backs up my assertion that he is not a one-punch or knockout fighter," remarked Winsor as an afterthought. "Contrary to general belief he did not knock out Carpentier. Georges simply had enough, and didn't care to continue."

continue."
This bears out the statement made to me by Joe Choynski, who declared that the blow which was supposed to have finished Carpentier missed him by a good eighteen inches.

There are two kinds of gasoline just as as the big gun thrusts out the projectile.

These explosions permit higher comtendency of a gasoline to detonate, as all authorities know.

You enjoy more power and efficiency from a gasoline like this.

New Speed

This additional, smoother power in your motor means a new "lift" on hills, new speed on the level and more snap in the pickup.

These steady, sustained impulses decrease vibration, so save wear and tear. Detonating powder would be the ruination of big guns.

And this increased, all-'round efficiency means greater fuel economy.

Thus Union Non-Detonating Gasoline is the fuel that gives you better service from your motor in several important ways.

Union is always uniform. It doesn't disintegrate, thus doesn't deteriorate in storage. You get all the power when you want it that is put into it at the Union plants.

There were long counters with a score of varieties of sakuska—exalted hors d'ocuvre—hot and cold: the inevitable caviare, fresh, saited and paste; smoked salmon and seven other varieties of cold fish, with and without dressing; eggs a la Russe with a vengeance, numerous salads, pickles, mushrooms, fresh cucumbers, patties and croquettes of fash and meat. Smoking is practiced generally in all compartments and corridors. Idropped a match on the corridor for the corridor for want of a better place and like magic two policemen appeared with receipt books in their hand. "Three hundred roubles, fine," said one of them, writing out the receipt books in their hand. "Three hundred roubles, fine," said one of the my pocket, thinking "They'll teach us manners, us bourgeois." But this was only the beginning of the morning collections intended to piece out the new economic policy.

Next was the good old prewar provodink, who made out his bill and collected $1 for the bedding, two glasses of tea taken in liqu of breakfast, and a small tip. Followed a young lady in high black boots whose little, bare, with a hair-pin.

10 A. M. 1911 S. Burlington GRATLING (Mich.) June 12.—
Six men were killed in a head-on the first bell I heard. The first bell I heard. The first bell rings fifteen minutes before the train starts, the second five minutes before and the last, one second before, if not as the train is already in motion.

Back in the sleeper I found my three compartment mates drinking glasses of tea and sugar. Our four berths were not made up until midnight, and prior to that time my companions drank four or five more glasses of tea, which were brought by the provodink as rapidly as glasses were emptied, until he got the signal meaning

Denison (Tex.) Terminal Has Latest Advantages

Work Done by Gravity After Boost is Given

BY W. D. HORNADAY

BY W. D. HORNADAY

(EXCLUSIVE BESPATCE.)

DENISON (Tex.) June 12.—The new freight terminal which the Missouri, Kansas and Texas is constructing here at a cost of $3,500.-000 will be finished in a few weeks. The handling of cars will be by means of the "double-hump" system—the only one west or south of St. Louis.

The new yards will have a capacity of $000 freight cars. There will be more than sixty miles of trackage in the terminal. In ordinary times more than forty arriving and forty departing trains of from thirty to one hundred and twenty-five cars each will be handled every day. This means that from 1500 to 2000 cars must be switched and "classified" within every twenty-four-hour period.

CARS "BOOSTED"

The freight cars bound for the ESPEE OF MEXICO

CARS "BOOSTED"

The freight cars bound for the North will be pushed by a switchengine up a slight grade or "hump" and given a "boost." They will then roll down grade from the "hump" into their classification tracks. Freight cars bound for the South also will be pushed by the switch engine to the summit of a little hump or hill, where they will be allowed to run down to their proper tracks by gravity.

All that the operator of the scales will have to do is to note the number of the car as it passes and chalk it up beside the weight as registered. No time is lost in weighing the cars. therefore, as would be the case if each car had to be shunted to a scale in some part of the yard and weighed as it stood still on the weighing platform.

YOSEMITE VALLEY TO HAVE ALL-YEAR ROAD

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION ASSURES COMPLETION OF MERCED ROUTE

EXCLUSIVE DISPARCE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—
Tosemite Valley is to be made accessible twelve months in the year. This is assured by action of the State Highway Commission today at the instigation of the California Automobile Association. The commission authorized immediate revision of old surveys and plans and the cailing for bids on the road between Briceburg and El Portal. This project will complete the last link on the Merced-to-El Portal highway. LEXCLUSIVE DISPATCE.

This project will complete the last link on the Merced-to-El Portal highway.

Completion of this highway will eliminate the steep Chowchilla grade, which approximates 18 percent. So serious is this grade that the Automobile Association now maintains one of its tow cars on Chowchilla Mountain for the benefit of its members.

"The State Highway Commission," said Chairman Brunnler today. "Is to be commended for its action. The opening of Yosemite Vailey twelve months in the year to motor travel means additional thousands to California during the winter months. The all-year road not only eliminates a steep grade, but gives the State a scenic highway unrivaled in beauty."

The action of the commission also saves to the State the $100,000 raised several years ago by public subscription for this improvement.

The switch engines themselves will never go into the clussification yards. Instead they will operate shuttle-like between the two humps and depend on the law of gravitation to do the rest.

Another medern feature of the yards is the method of weighing cars. A few hundred feet beyond the summitt of each hump on the down grade there are being built two fifty-six-foot automatic scales of 150 tons capacity. Every car that passes these track-scales, going in either direction, will be weighed automatically as it moves forward.

BENNETT ESTATE GROWS TANGLED

New York "Herald" Balance Sheet Shows Losses

Realty Values Are Given but Not Definitely

(EXCLUSIVE DISPARCE.)
NEW YORK, June 12.—The alance sheets of the New York erald, under the management of James Gordon Benneti, when accountants went over the books in 1919 showed that while the newspaper earned $488,589 in 1908, the years 1917 and 1918 showed deficits of $151,370 and $138,283, according to the report of Deputy State Commissioner Edward W. Buckley, made yesterday.

The report was made in appraisal proceedings and disclosed that while the total profits from 1999 to 1918 totaled $1,940,92, the annual profits year by year apprached the point where the net results appeared in red ink, while payment of dividends stopped in 1918.

When the accountants went over the books, says the report, they ound that Bennett owned all but it so the 1000 shares of stock sued. His holdings were ap-raised at $1,058,710, the valuation eing based partly on $250,000 ppraisal of the plant and equip-sent and $565,000 for the Asso-lated Press franchise.

SOLD TO MUNSEY

SOLD TO MUNSEY

James Gordon Bennett died May

14. 1918. When his executors sold the paper two years later to Frank A. Munsey, the purchaser was generally understood to have paid 44.000.000 for it.

Owing to the fact that the Court of Appeal has before it for decision the Delamar case, which the appellate division decided by ruling that the bulk of the estate which was left to public institutions cannot be taxed for transfer purposes. Deputy Commissioner Buckley reported that he made no effort to appraise the stock of the New York Herald or other tangfible assets of the estate while the appeal is pending.

Bennett's will left the residuary estate, which comprised more than half of his American estate, to found a home for newspaper men
o be known as the James Gordon Rennett Memorial Home for New York Journalists.

The report, therefore, fails to appraise the bulk of the estate or to give any idea as to what amount will be available for the establishment of the home. The right of the estate is expressly reserved by the report to reopen the appraisal if it is determined that a transfer tax can be collected.

VALUE UNSETTIAED

VALUE UNSETTIED

Even the value of the real estate is based on figures; submitted by the estate. The appraisal states the Washington Heights realty holdings were valued at $1,202,500; leaving an equity after granting and other expense of $383,779; Bronx $4600; Queens, $1400; Yonkers, $258,500 and Westchester $322,635.

kmYoAmong the claims of the estate here listed is an advance of $191,-025 to the Herold.
Holdings appraised include 135 shares of New York Casino $3750; eight shares of Coney Island Jockey Clubs, $1200; bonds of Valley Farms Company, near Yonkers, appraised at $110,585, and 125 shares of the same which are reported worthles and $12,050 Liberty bonds of the second issue. He carried no life insurance.

The report states that legal charges incurred by the estate in settling up the American and French estates and for litigation totaled $300,000. VALUE UNSETTLED has been said that Rochester and clothing are synonomous. This prominent city in New York State is the largest men's clothing manufacturing center in the country. Such well-krown brands as Fashion Park, Society Brand, Adler and many others are located in this city.

When it is considered that these nationally-known clothier: send three thousand miles across the country to purchase Western goods-there must be a reason.

THE GOLDEN STATE WOOLEN MILLS, which since 1916 has been manufacturing high-grade woolens in Southern California, contracts over 80 per cent of its products annually with these nationallyknown concerns. Quality and price are the reasons why the Easterner comes West to secure these goods.

The present issue of eight per cent cumulative, participatirg preferred stock, meets the demands of the prudent investor. Your inquiry carries no obligation. Write for details today.

The Santa Fe Dome No. 1, located on Shoemaker Road at Santa Fe Springs, has again completed a fishing job and is being drilled deeper. The well is drilling at 4600 feet and an average of eighteen feet a tower has been made during the past two days.

The fishing job just completed is the fourth since the Federal Drilling Company started the well six months ago. In one case side-tracking was necessary when the well was 150 feet in the Meyers sand. It was at first thought that a well could be placed on production above the lost drill stem but this was found to be futile.

The last bit of hard luck occurred recently when several lengths of drill pipe "wobbled" off and fishing was found unsuccessful. Side-tracking was to have been attempted but drillers found siter working several tower that

That Wave of Foster Good Fortune Spells Millions!

Like a mighty tide, a great surge of petroleum is gushing from the earth. It is pouring straight from Foster wells, bringing wealth to thousands of Foster investors.

It started April 24th, when we completed Simplex No. 1, a 3500 barreler. It was swelled with Californian No. 2's 4000 barrels, and it went to new heights June 10th, when Miracle No. 6 roared in, estimated at 5000 barrels per day. It will rise again and again, as other Simplex, Miracle and Californian wells thunder in, and as other Foster wells, now drilling at Signal Hill, Huntington Beach and Santa Fe Springs add their million-making flows.

Let It Work for You

Share in the deluge of oil that is rewarding the hard work of the Foster organization. Invest your money with the Fosters—a group of young, hustling business men who, with an investment of better than $2,000,000, just now stand on the bottom rung of that ladder of success, which it is freely predicted will lead them straight to the front as California's greatest oil producers.

YANKEE is Your Chance

Foster's Yankee Oil Syndicate is your chance to win. It drills its wells in the 6000-barrel area of Santa Fe Springs, neighbors to the 6000-barrel Russell—the 6000-barrel Boeske, and the 7000-barrel Elliott. Yankee drills on the high priced lease ever drilled by the Fosters—five acres that cost $100,000. Yankee's wells are bonded to go to the Meyer sand, the greatest oil producing sand in his Yankee's neighbors, Yankee's acreage and Yankee's wells say Yankee will have two 6000-barrel producers sixty days from now.

Ride Yankee for All You're Worth

We made good for Californian—Simplex—and Miracle, and now we are determined that Yankee shall be the greatest success of all. We pledge you the best that is in us-your full share of every barrel of oil Yankee ever gets.

"I Hear Some Funny Cracks"

For instance, yesterday I was asked if I expected to be able to pay as big returns on every dollar invested in my refinery as my oil syndicates are paying, and when I showed this particular gentleman some actual facts regarding the fine points of an investment in my refinery, he was somewhat amazed. He admitted he was of the opinion that my refinery would only pay twenty to twenty-five per cent a year, but when I called to his attention the fact that my present dividends are being paid by selling crude at $1.00 a barrel, and by adding an estimated cost of $1.33 a barrel for refining, this same barrel of oil will sell for about $6.00 instead of $1.00, he certainly sat up and took "some" notice.

I also opened a neat little book of statistical reports that I carry in my vest pocket and showed him where the largest oil corporation in the world makes 13% of its gross profits producing oil, while 87% of their total profits come from refining and marketing, and they make some profits, too.

Here's another question put to me yesterday: "C. C., is there any possibility of the 'Big Oil Corporations' getting your goat on this refinery deal of yours by cutting the price of refined products all to pieces when you get going nicely?"

I answered that question this way:

Just keep in mind one thing-that where I will be marketing perhaps twenty to thirty thousand barrels of refined oil a day, the "Big Corporations" will be marketing 300,000 barrels a day. Now, who do you suppose would get hurt the worst by their pulling a stunt like that?

If I was depending on our local market to dispose of my product, things might be different, but my program calls for having at our disposal every facility the biggest of them have, and I'm a fast worker, too. Should the "Big Boys" decide to slash prices in "California," I'll sell mine in "New York." If they decide to cut in "New York," I'll sell mine in "Canada." If they decide to chop it in "Canada," I'll sell mine in the "Orient," I'll step into the markets of "England," "France," "South America" and a few dozen other places. No; they'd have a "heck of a time" and lose "more millions" than "Carter" has pills trying to stop me marketing mine. In the words of the poet, "It can't be did," and I'm losing a lot of sleep about that angle, "in a Pig's Nightie, I am."

Folks, always keep in mind that your "old war horse" is no amateur in this oil game himself, and that I'll be betting mine right down the line with you, and when it comes to obstacles, "I'm not afraid of anything that 'walks,' 'crawls,' 'creeps' or 'wears hair.'

"I honestly and sincerely believe" that my refinery project will earn you more money on every dollar invested than anything you have ever had a chance to put a dollar in in the last twenty years, and this is one time you are going to get yours and all of it.

My urgent advice to every one in a position to take advantage of my offer, when I officially announce it, is to "buy it," and "buy it," and "then buy it some more." In a few months from now you'll appreciate this advice.

Remington and Hadley deny they took the jewels, but Miss Bobbie Roff and Miss Billie Hudson, members of the party, told Deputy Sheriffs Dewar and Modie that one of the youths displayed the ring later and offered it to Miss Roff, who refused to accept it.

Miss Hudson and Miss Roff, following their statements to the deputy sheriffs, were exonerated of any participation in the asserted theft. Both are dancers who have entertained in several local cafes.

Later in the day Miss Rodher attempted to have the complaints against Hadley and Remington withdrawn, after she had visited the two men in the County Jail and had talked with them for a length of time. Page, Miss Rodher's escort, returned immediately to Denver, boarding the train on crutches.

Unable to attend the hearing yesterday afternoon, Miss Jolley is expected to recount her accusations against Sanceri at the hearing today. Dr. J. Shaffer, her is physician, stated in testimony given at the hearing that Miss Jolley has physically unable to leave her home.

The hearing yesterday afternoon was conducted in a crowded courtroom. Officers were stationed in the room to prevent any trouble and the entrance and exit of Sanceri, the defendant who was beaten by members of a mob self-styled as the "White Knights of Womanhood" recently, was closely guarded.

Just before adjournment Justice Follette asked Dep. Dist. Aity. Jordan, prosecuting the case, whether there was any desire on the part of the District Attorney's office to request an increase in bail. The deputy stated that inasmuch as Sanceri had appeared heretofore at scheduled hearings he would not at that time request an increase in bail. Sanceri is at liberty on $500 cash bail.

Intimation of evidence showing that Miss Jolley had been married or contemplated matrimony was made by George L. Sanders, attorney for Sanceri during the taking of evidence. In questioning T. W. We believe, because the broad that in the interest of the reputation of this community and the Officer Sherrard, who arrested Sanceri, was called to testify and stated that after Sanceri had been informed he was under arrest he had confessed to intimacy with Miss Jolley. This asserted confession took place, according to the officer, after Sanceri had been placed in a police automobile and the party had started for the Joil, ley home. He further testified that Sanceri had reiterated his confession at the Jolley home.

As to the condition of Miss Joiley when taken to the police station, prior to her examination at the Receiving Hospital, Officer Sherrard stated she informed the officers that the men accused of mistreating her had forced her to swallow something which resembled a quinine capsule. He also stated that she was hysterical. Following Sherrard's testimony, Attorney Sanders stated that the defense expected to show that the three men under arrest were not guilty of the crime charged; that they were asked by Miss Jolley to locate a man she intended to marry; that they were successful in finding him, and that it was he who took Miss Jolley to 308 Clay street, where she was found by officers.

Mr. Bryant wrote to Capt. Home, stating that he had not received this money, although the detective lieutenants told their chief that they had mailed the money in a police envelope to its owner. Capt. Home said they had not reported recovery of the money to him, an oversight which is in violation of police regulations.

A demand that Deputy Chief of Police Hilf retract statements attributed to him, in which the ministers were referred to as "vaude-villians doing their act" and performing "tricks and antics," was made by ministers yesterday. At a conference in Mayor Cryer's office this morning the ministers asked Deputy Chief Hilf if he had authorized or made such a statement. Hilf denied that he had issued the quoted remarks. At that, a repudiation was presented and a request made for his signature. This Hilf refused to do, declaring that since he had not given out the statement it did not follow that he shoule sign a retraction.

"As I am not responsible for these assertions," said Hilf, "I do not feel called upon to accede to the demands of the gentlemen. It is unfortunate that they think I criticised them in that language, but as I did not do so I prefer not to sign a repudiation."

No charges against Capt. Plummer, who minced no words in the mass meeting Sunday, and Hilf, are scheduled to be filed before 'he Police Commission by the two ministers. Dr. Briegleb said yesterday "When we presented the resolutions to the Mayor, Monday," said Dr. Briegleb, "we criticized the language used by Capt. Plummer. I feel that he went far beyond the necessities of the occasion in making his meaning clear, but I know he is a good police officer and one who should remain on the force."

Mayor Cryer said yesterday that he still had under consideration the request of the ministers that Chief Oaks is now in the East, where he is attending the convention of police chiefs in Buffalo, N. Y.

The public-service department admitted yesterday that those painted banners strung across the street urging the nice voters to please, oh, please, vote for the power bonds—"They won't cost a cent—only $25,000,000," cost real money. The painters could not be joilled into working for nothing. There's an art in giving correctly-read this:

THE gift should be something new and of recognized value. It should cost enough, but not too much—extravagance is in poor taste as much as closeness. It should be something for which the affection will not diminish—but grow; hence, something useful and everlasting, like the Parker Duofold Pen.

Indeed, the Duofold fulfills all ordinary gift requirements, and more—today it ranks in higher favor than any moderately priced article in the stores—it has fairly captivated America!

Its Chinese lacquer-red barrel with flashing black tips appeals more than gold to all with an eye to beauty. And its color makes it a hard pen to lose—it's a mark of highest ex-

Past Sixty, He Still Enjoys Kidding Girls

Jim Doyle of Sawtelle is past 60 years of age, but when he is drunk he still finds pleasure in "kidding the girls," he told Police Judge Chambers yesterday. Jim was fined $20 for admitted intoxication.

Police Officer Donne of Sawtelle arrested Doyle in a drugstore on Santa Monica Boulevard several nights ago. The pretty girl be hind the counter was the com-plainant. She said she asked Doyle "What will you have?" and he asked "What have you got?" and she returned, "Anything you like." Then the young woman said Doyle became more personal, asked her if she had a fellow and volunteered for the post. Then she called the policeman.

These are deported to the old home to take care of themselves as best they can.

Another third are without ability to support their kin or country. Members of this group are given exemption from the taxes which are so heavily levied. a time a generation ago when a revolution in one of the Balkan states set every government of Europe trembling. For it was out of the Balkans that have come the storms that have swept like a cyclone over the whole continent.

Now there is trouble in the Balkans again, serious trouble. The peasant government in Bulgaria has been kicked out by the Fascisti; and the King is with the new party. In Rumania the government was voted out by the people in the last election; but it is holding the offices by force of arms.

Yet one reads the news almost with a yawn. So many things have happened in the last ten years that we have lost the spirit of oriental fatality has passed around the world. If there is going to be another war—it is fate. What is to be has to be. What is the use of getting excited over it?

Peoples of the other European states have too many problems of their own to be concerned seriously about what is tak-ing place in the Balkan peninsula. Western Europe is less concerned than a gen-eration ago; for back of the Balkan revolutions then was always the Russian bear stretching his claws toward the Bosperus. Russia is no longer a world power. Its might and its glory departed when the dis-ciples of Karl Marx captured the govern-

Russia is still a power for evil, but only for her own people. Her government is without statesmen and without means. Her aggression is no longer to be feared. Austria is likewise impotent. There is no danger of the Hapsburgs gobbling up one or more of the little Balkan states. The claws of the Austrian eagle are pared and his wing is broken.

No great power is likely to interfere, regardless of what takes place in the Balkans. Whether the peasants enslave the bourgeoisie or the bourgeoisie drive the peasant government out of Sofia at the point of the bayonet is a matter that concerns Bulgaria only. cerns Bulgaria only.

Perhaps it is just as well that the little

Balkan states should be left for a time to their own devices; that they should no longer be the pawns of the great powers years ago England, Germany and Russia were continually struggling for advantage in the Balkan territory. Austria was also to be considered, but only as an ally of Germany. All that has changed. Neither party in Bulgaria has the secret support of any foreign power. Neither side can secure finances secretly from some foreign treasury.

Left to themselves, the Balkan peoples may finally fight their way to peace. They are now the arbiters of their own destiny. Germany was forced to sign on the dotted line when the Treaty of Versallies was drafted. She was permitted to have no part in its drafting, was not permitted to have a hearing. The treaty as whole was presented to her commission and they were told that they must aim or the immediate invasion of Germany would begin. It was a drastic form of making peace, widely different from the negotiations between our country and Spain, or between Russia and Japan. But it was the penalty the Allied governments exacted, with the full support of the Allied pooples, to discipline Germany for what they considered the barbarous manner in which she had conducted the war.

Those who act as barbarians must expect to be treated as barbarians; such was the spirit of the Paris conference. However the historians of the future may regard that procedure, it had the full support of all the peoples who had united to crush German militarism.

Now the situation is different.

Recently, at a spelling bee held in a country school, a former champion went down to defeat because he misspelled "Success" with one "C."

This crawhile champion is not the only man who suffered defeat because he spelled "Success" wrong.

When is Chester Bennett going to begin to spend a little money on stories for that charming and talented star, Jane Novak? Miss Novak is one of the best bets on the acreen. As the wife in this uninspired story, she is sincere, deep, convincing. Though merely reflecting the reactions of fate, as the unhappy wife, with little of what we should call acting possibilities, she manages a characterisation that is full of poignant and genuine appeal.

John Bowers has the role of the husband, an unsympathetic and rather unconvincing one, but does all that any human being could do with it. James Corrigan is most happily cast as the old dad of the heroine, and manages a tinge of the natural and human drollery that characterised his work on the stage. Margaret Livingston is so delightful as the vamp that we long to see more of her. Why doesn't somebody give her a Spanish girl role? Edythe Chapman, George Fisher, little Philip de Lacy, Freevann Wood and George McGuire all do well in their respective roles.

Now, in about two months, the two will sail for Honolulu with Miss Crawford's mother, and there in the islands the wedding will take place.

Family Reunion Note

Something touching in the way of a family reunion will take place in Hollywood when Francis X. Bushman arrives in Los Angeles July 15 to appear in person at Loew's with his picture, "Modern Marriage." Bushman will greet his son, Ralph Bushman, who lately arrived here, following eighteen months in vaudeville.

It is expected that Ralph will accompany his father to San Francisco, where the two will lay their heads together regarding several film offers lately made to the younger Bushman.

Name All Set

Viola Dana's director and scenario writer have about settled down at last to a title for her current picture. It is from Rita Weiman's "To Whom It May Concern," which next became "The Girl Who Dared" and at last will set sail for better or for worse under the title of "The Social Code."

Unlike most fight scenes, in which the villain receives his just deserts and is eyentually hammered to a fare-thee-well by the hero, this particular villain is given more than a fair opportunity to prove his ability as a fighter.

Even a referee is not lacking. Joseph Dowling, one of the outstanding character actors of the screen, who plays the role of old amily smokes his corncop pipe while the participants thump and pound each other.

farther from Hollywood in their quest.

One of the rarest and most attractive locations is now serving for the Fox company that is making the fantasy, "Enchantment." They have selected the Santa Cruz Islands, to which attention was attracted when De Mille filmed "Male and Female."

This island background was also used by Henry Otto for "Undine," and since he is directing "Enchantment," which demands a somewhat similar atmosphere, he has returned to the cherished destination of his other venture.

The cast of "Enchantment" includes Phyllis Haver, William Boyd, Dave Butler, Jean Arthur, Leon Bary and Marion Harlan, daughter of Otis Harlan, Catherine Carr is the author of the story, from which the film is being made, and it is to contain many scenes of fantastic appeal, as well as a major plot teiling a romance of today.

FISHER SLAYING SUSPECT HELD

Leo Willeford Surrenders; Faces Murder Charge

Jailed Man's Wife Asserts Victim Threatened Her

Letters Are Turned Over to Police as Evidence

Leo M. Willeford, sought by the police since William S. Fisher, police informer, was shot and killed on January 16, last, was surrendered yesterday by his attorney, S. S. Hahn, and committed to jail without bail on a murder charge. Justice Wood set his hearing for the 27th inst. Willeford was taken to the office of Capt. Home of the Detective Bureau and was arraigned by Detective Lieutenant Huling. His wife, who asserts Fisher wrote her letters threatening death if a $10 liquor bill was not paid, accompanied him.

Fisher was killed on Fifty-fourth street, near Main street, while he was walking near his home. According to accounts at the time, an automobile containing several men drew into the block and one of them called to him. As he turned toward the car a rifle shot was heard and Fisher crumpled up and fell. The automobile went on.

Fisher crumpled up and fell. The automobile went on.

REVENGE THOUGHT MOTIVE

At first the killing was attributed by the police to bootleggers. They said Fisher had given information, following his own release on a bootlegging charge, that had caused the arrest of more than 200 bootleggers and it was believed some of his victims had killed him in revenge.

Some one had taken the number of the automobile and it was discovered to be the property of R. C. Springer, with whom the Willefords lived at 737 East dams street. Springer was arrested and released when no evidence could be found against him. Then the police say they learned that Mrs. Willeford gave a rife to an acquaintance a few hours after the killing and this led to Mrs. Willeford's arrest. She was held for a time as a witness but later released.

She turned over of the police, they say, several letters which were believed to give a clew to the slaying. They related to an asserted transaction in which Fisher had sold Willeford liquor and claimed a balance due of $10. Several letters from Fisher to Willeford, making threats if the amount was not paid, were followed by letters to Mrs. Willeford making similar threats, the police say. But the police were unable to find Willeford.

The latter part of last month, Attorney Hahn told Capt. Home he had an offer in a letter from Willeford to surrender if he could be released on $15,000 bail. The offer was refused by the District Attorney's office. The letter gave no intimation of Willeford's whereabouts, the attorney declared. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Joes said he could not consent to the release on bail of any prisoner charged with murder and there the matter stood until yesterday. At the arraignment in Justice Wood's court, Atty. Hahn asked that the case be postponed until July, but Justice Wood's refused on the ground that the July calendars were crowded and set the case for the 27th. Bail was not sought.

Fisher was convicted of bootlegging and sentenced to six months' imperisonment before he

According to evidence in the hands of the District Attorney's office, a service station would be robbed and whatever was obtained was said to have been taken to Chaus's "cut rate" live establishment, 1618 Sunset Boulevard, and from there distributed to smaller stores in Southern California.
